FORT SHAW TRAINING SCHOOL. Interesting Closing Exercises Showing the

Progress Made, [Special Correspondence of The Independent.] Four Smaw, June 28,—The closing exercises of the Fort Shaw Indian training school were held Wednesday last. Visitors began to arrive the day before and by noon quite a throng had arrived. At two p. m. the visitors were escorted to the school rooms, where an exhibit of the school room work of the proceding year was neatly arranged. In the fifth grade the work exhibited consisted of examination papers of every student of that grade in history and a ithmetic together with their copybooks and sample lessons in English, spelling and map grawing. In the tourth grade the work shown consisted of sample lessons in English, arithmetic and map drawing and copybooks. In the third grade the exhibit was unade in the control of the control o books. In the third grade the exhibit was made in the same subjects as in the fourth. The second and first grades had sample work in English, numbers, spelling and work in English, numbers, specing and copying.

In the carpenter shop a good showing was made, including pocket knife and iniaid work, picture frames, tables, bookcasses, etc. A regular course was here shown embracing pocket knife work and slovd. The tailor, shoe and blacksmith shops were not fully organized natil last January: coats, pants and shoes made by the pupils we eshown. In the blacksmith shop, staples, clevices, tongs, wenches, gate fixtures, etc., made by the pupils were shown. While no special exhibit of farm products could be made at this time, the miles of substantial funcing, the well-cared for stock and tial fencing, the well-cared for stock and the garden reflected credit on the adminis-

the garden reflected credit on the administration of this department.

On the girls side the fancy work showing attracted much attention. It consisted of samples of fancy crecketing, in yarn and thread, hemsitiching, embroidery and decorative articles. In the sewing room different garments made by the girls we to be seen, including skirts, diesses and underwear. The do mitories, kitchen and laundry were open for inspection.

At four o'clock the visitors were conducted to the gymnasium, where the girls, gave a gymnastic and calisthenic drill, which gave additional force to the old Latin maxim of "Mens sans in corpore sans." At six r. m. the boys gave a drill and parade en the campus. At eight o'c. ook a literary programme was rendered in the chapel, consisting of recitation, song, dislogue, organ voluntary, wand drill and music by the Fort Shaw cadet band. Among the prominent visitors from Great Falls were County Superintend Stevenson and Prof. Largent.
